2. This Statement, which is the responsibility of the Company's Management and approved by the Company's Board of Directors, has been prepared in accordance with the recognition and measurement principles laid down in Indian Accounting Standard 34, (Ind AS 34) "Interim Financial Reporting" prescribed under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 as amended, read with relevant rules issued thereunder and other accounting principles generally accepted in India. A review of interim financial information consists of making inquiries, primarily of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters, and applying analytical and other review procedures. 4. Based on our review conducted as above, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the accompanying Statement, prepared in accordance with the recognition and measurement principles laid down in the aforesaid Indian Accounting Standards ('Ind AS') specified under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 as amended, read with relevant rules issued thereunder and other accounting principles generally accepted in India, has not disclosed the information required to be disclosed in terms of the Listing Regulations, including the manner in which it is to be disclosed, or that it contains any material misstatement.

India capable of giving befitting reply: Prez

In Independence Day-eve speech, calls for united fight against Covid

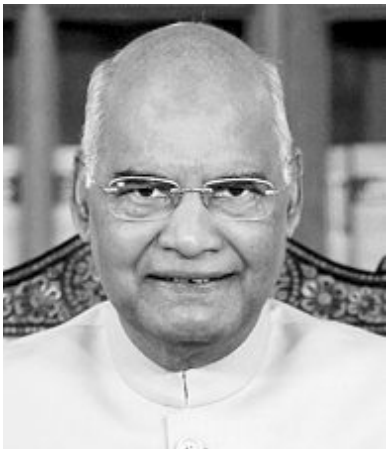

ADITI PHADNIS
New Delhi, 14 August

The “martyrs” who died defending Galwan valley from the designs of “expansionist” neighbours found mention in the Independence Day-eve speech of President Ram Nath Kovind, alongside tributes to health workers and government officials who worked to keep systems up and running during the pandemic.

He referred to the beginning of construction of the Ram temple as a project that was achieved through the judicial system and congratulated all citizens for their restraint, referring only obliquely to all that could have happened and didn't. He reminded India the public health infrastructure needed to be given much more attention.

The President (also the supreme commander of the armed forces) referred to the stand-off at the Line of Actual Control, where 20 Indian armed forces personnel were killed, and warned that if India sought peace everywhere in the world, it was also capable of meeting aggression with a befitting reply. “Those worthy sons of ‘Bharat Mata’ lived and died for national pride. The entire nation salutes the martyrs of Galwan Valley. Every Indian feels grateful to their family members,” he said.

The President said the pandemic had taught the world several lessons.

President Ram Nath Kovind said that the Covid-19 crisis had taught us that humanity put aside differences to save the planet

“It has been the tradition of India that we do not just live for ourselves, but work for the wellbeing of the entire world. India's self-reliance means being self-sufficient without alienating or creating distance from the world. It implies that India will continue to engage with the world economy while maintaining its identity,” he said, while praising the Prime Minister Narendra Modi government for its many initiatives to address the needs of the poor.

Migrant labour and its travails were also mentioned by Kovind and he noted that the government had extended free rations to all poor till November and was working towards universalisation of ration cards across India. He said the crisis had fostered reform and referred to the changes in agricultural procurement policies as an illustration.

The President said human-centric rather than economic-centric collaboration was more appropriate and the health crisis had taught us that humanity put aside differences and collaborated to save the planet. He also said: “Coronavirus does not recognise any artificial divisions created by human society. This reinforces the belief that we need to rise above all man-made differences, prejudices, and barriers. Compassion and mutual help have been adopted as basic values by the people in India. We need to further strengthen this virtue in our conduct. Only then can we create a better future for all of us.”

He emphasised the relevance of science and technology, that proved the crucial connecting link when social contact was not possible. The President was especially appreciative of the New Education Policy and said instruction in the mother tongue would enable young minds to grow spontaneously, while strengthening and enriching Indian languages. The President's speech was a pep talk and the underlying note was: This too shall pass. As always, he avoided striking any contentious note and promised all Indians a better future.

Rajasthan: CM Gehlot wins trust vote

ADITI PHADNIS
New Delhi, 14 August

The Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot-led Congress government in Rajasthan on Friday won a trust vote as expected, but amid speeches loaded with double entendres, sarcasm and underlying bitterness.

“When I came to the House and found that my seat had been changed (to near the opposition benches), I wondered why. When I sat there (pointing to the government benches), I felt safe. Now I am next to the opposition. Then I realised that I have been sent to the sarhaad (border). That is because only the bravest and strongest warrior is sent to the border,” said Sachin Pilot, former deputy chief minister and state Congress chief who was stripped of both posts after he unfurled the banner of rebellion a month ago. On why the rebellion was short-lived, he said: “During this debate, many things will be said, much will be revealed. But whatever we had to say or do, my friends and I, we've got our cure. We consulted a doctor in Delhi and we are back now. We all stand united.”

His reference presumably was to the patch-up formula hammered out in Delhi via Priyanka Gandhi Vadra and Rahul Gandhi who agreed to set up a committee to hear the grievances of the ‘rebels’, in itself a concession that there was some legitimacy to their complaints against Gehlot.

Pilot said he was ready to face the “fire” at the frontline. “We are ready and armed for the onslaught with our armour, our shield and our weapons,” he said to loud desk thumping.

When the Bharatiya Janata Party's (BJP's) Gulab Chand Kataria, the Leader of Opposition, said while targeting the Gehlot government that Pilot “was pushed out of the party even though he did such good work on NREGA”, Pilot interrupted: “What is our internal matter, leave that to us. Whether there is any hurt or not, leave that to us. You focus on the trust vote.”

come was reviewed by the audit committee and was disclosed to statutory auditors before the finalisation of accounts for the year ended March 31, 2018. Thereafter, it was submitted to the Reserve Bank of India (RBI).

The bank also provided information on the developments linked to the ongoing case involving former MD and CEO Chanda Kochhar.

It further said that at the direction of the audit committee and with the assistance of external counsel, it's continuing to investigate the allegations.

The bank has been responding to the request for information from SEC investigatory staff regarding an enquiry relating to the timing and amount of the loan impairment provisions taken under US Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP), the bank filing has said.

“In the event that the bank is found by SEC to have violated federal securities laws or regulations, the bank could become subject to legal and regulatory sanctions that may materially and adversely affect the results of operations, financial condition and reputation,” it said.

SEC enforcement action in such cases, if found in violation, results in hefty penalty, bars and suspension of wrongdoers.

As on June 30, 2020, the bank had approximately 590 million American depositary shares (ADS), equivalent to about 1,180 million equity shares, outstanding. There were 89,929 record holders of ADSs, out of which 96 had registered addresses in the United States.

On the question of increasing risk for inquiries by regulatory and enforcement authorities, the bank said it may further impact the reputation leading to enhanced regulatory concerns. That may mean additional expenses for the bank, impacting its ability to conduct business.

“We cannot predict the timing or form of any current or future law enforcement initiatives, which are increasingly common for international banks and financial institutions,” it said.

Export contraction...

“With the resurgence of (Covid-19) cases in several parts of the world, it will be difficult to say whether the positive trend, as seen in engineering exports, can be sustained,” said Mahesh Desai, chairman, Engineering Export Promotion Council of India.

Drug exports also continued to capitalise on the pandemic, seeing growth almost double to 19.5 per cent from 9.8 per cent in June. However, all other major export categories remained deep in the red. The biggest revenue earner, petroleum products, registered a 51.5 per cent decline, worsening from June's 31 per cent fall. Consumer products such as textiles, gems and jewellery, and electronic goods, among others, continued to show contraction at almost similar levels. But policymakers pointed to emerging signs of a broad-based recovery. “In July, 16 of the 30 major product groups showed growth, up from 12 in the previous month, indicating that more number of industries are now up and running. This will have a multiplier effect soon and improve the figures,” a senior commerce department official said.

Exporters say trade is gradually reaching the previous year's level. “Business/order enquiries from almost all major economies like the US, EU, Canada, Japan, South Korea, Australia, and New Zealand have helped in bringing the exports sector to almost 90 per cent of the level in July 2019,” said Sharad Kumar Saraf, president of the Federation of Indian Export Organisations (FIEO).

Aditi Nayar, principal economist, ICRA, said, “The rare trade surplus seen in June vanished with some recovery in merchandise imports in July, which stamped out the further improvement in merchandise exports. This trend is likely to strengthen in the coming months, as demand for non-oil, non-gold imports start to normalise, gold imports gather steam around the festive/marriage months, and crude oil demand and prices stabilise at a moderate level.”

ICRA expects a large current account surplus in Q1FY21 will give way to modest surpluses in the subsequent three quarters. According to the Reserve Bank of India's figures, services exports in July stood at $17 billion, whereas imports stood at $10 billion.

Super exciting times...

On the competition ahead, Sajith Sivanandan, Managing Director and Business Head, Google Pay, said: “There is no more competitive sector (than Payments) and no more competitive country than India. When more players enter into the ecosystem, then automatically there is growth.”

But, while there will be growth, it may not be a smooth sailing for new players.

“I would like to see WhatsApp enter sooner than later. In Payments, the first mover advantage is really not that relevant. I am not very bullish on people opening up their purses for every kind of applications they use. I don't think it (WhatsApp's entry) is a cakewalk, I don't think it is threatening,” said Nigam.

While there are so many Payment services providers, life is still difficult for the merchants. But, change is eminent, both for customers and the ecosystem.
