The Board of Directors
Mindteck (India) Limited:

At the request of Mindteck (India) Limited, we have audited the accompanying financial statements of Mindteck, Inc. ("the Company"), which comprise the balance sheets as at March 31, 2014 and 2013, the statements of operations and comprehensive income, changes in stockholders' equity and cash flow for the years then ended, and notes, comprising a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with International Standards on Auditing. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on our judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, we consider internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements give a true and fair view of the financial position of the Company as at March 31, 2014 and 2013, and of its financial performance and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

MINDTECK, INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(In United States Dollars, except where otherwise stated)

1. Organization and description of the business

Mindteck, Inc. ("the Company"), is a software development and consulting company headquartered in Enola, Pennsylvania. The Company was incorporated in November 1995 and is a wholly owned subsidiary of Mindteck (India) Limited ('MIL').

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

(a) Basis of preparation of financial statements:

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in conformity with U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (U.S. GAAP).

(b) Use of estimates:

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions. These estimates and assumptions affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Significant estimates and assumptions are used for, but not limited to, accounting for costs and efforts expected to be incurred to complete performance under software development arrangements, allowance for uncollectible accounts receivable, the useful lives of property and equipment and intangible assets and income tax valuation allowances. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Appropriate changes in estimates are made as management becomes aware of changes in circumstances surrounding the estimates. Changes in estimates are reflected in the financial statements in the period in which changes are made and, if material, their effects are disclosed in the notes to the financial statements.

(c) Revenue recognition:

The Company derives its revenues primarily from software development and technical consultancy services. Software development and technical consultancy services are performed under both time-and-material and fixed-price arrangements. Revenues are recognized as the services are rendered for time-and-material contracts and for fixed fee arrangements, on a proportional performance basis based on actual direct costs in relation to total estimated costs. Revenues are recognized when persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, the sales price is fixed or determinable and collectability is reasonably assured.

Revenues are recognized net of value added tax, service tax and applicable discounts.

The Company records reimbursable out-of-pocket expenses in both revenues and as cost of revenue.

Costs and earnings in excess of billings are classified as unbilled revenue while billings in excess of costs and earnings are classified as unearned revenue.

Interest income is recognized using the time proportion method, based on the transactional interest rates.

(d) Cash and cash equivalents:

The Company considers all highly liquid investments with a remaining maturity at the date of purchase of three months or less and that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash to be cash equivalents. Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash and cash on demand deposit with banks.

MINDTECK, INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(In United States Dollars, except where otherwise stated)

(e) Fair value of financial instruments and concentration of credit risk:

The amounts reflected for cash and cash equivalents, billed and unbilled receivables and accounts payable approximate their fair value due to their short maturities. Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to concentration of credit risk consist primarily of cash and cash equivalents and billed and unbilled receivables. The Company mitigates its risk with respect to cash and cash equivalents by maintaining its deposits with financial institutions. The accounts receivable, net of allowances, amounted to USD 7,573,957 and USD 7,350,535 as of March 31, 2014 and 2013 respectively. Two customers accounted for 21% and 15% of total revenues in 2014 and accounted for 22% and 14% of total revenues in 2013. The amounts due from these customers accounted for 19% and 7% of accounts receivable as of March 31, 2014 and 25% and 9% as of March 31, 2013.

Accounts receivable are recorded at the invoiced amount and do not bear interest. The carrying amount of the accounts receivable is reduced by an allowance for doubtful accounts that reflects management's best estimate of the amounts that will not be collected.

(f) Property, plant and equipment, net:

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. The costs of additions are capitalized, while repairs and maintenance are charged to expense as incurred. The Company depreciates property, plant and equipment over the estimated useful life using the straight-line method. The estimated useful lives of assets are as follows:

Asset classification	Useful life
Computer and office equipment	3 years
Software	5 years
Furniture and fixtures	5 years
Leasehold improvements	7 years

Assets under leasehold improvements are amortized over their estimated useful life or the lease term, whichever is lower.

(g) Business combinations, goodwill and intangible assets:

The Company accounts for its business combinations by recognizing the identifiable tangible and intangible assets and liabilities assumed, and any non-controlling interest in the acquired business, measured at their acquisition date fair values. Fair value of contingent consideration is included in the purchase consideration and transaction costs are expensed as incurred.

The Company does not amortize goodwill but instead tests goodwill for impairment at least annually, using a two-step impairment process. The fair value of the reporting unit is first compared to its carrying value (including goodwill). The fair value of the reporting units is determined using a combination of valuation techniques including discounted cash flow analysis and market value approaches based on multiples. If the fair value of the reporting unit exceeds the carrying value of the net assets assigned to that unit, goodwill is not impaired. If the carrying value of the net assets assigned to the reporting unit exceeds the fair value of the reporting unit, then the implied fair value of the reporting unit's goodwill is compared with the carrying value of the reporting unit's goodwill. The implied fair value of goodwill is determined in the same manner as the amount of goodwill recognized in a business combination. If the carrying value of a reporting unit's goodwill exceeds its implied fair value, then an impairment loss equal to the difference is recorded.

Intangible assets acquired individually, with a group of other assets or in a business combination are carried at cost less accumulated amortization.

MINDTECK, INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(In United States Dollars, except where otherwise stated)

(h) Impairment or disposal of long-lived assets:

Long-lived assets to be held and used are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of such assets may not be recoverable. Such assets are considered to be impaired if the carrying amount of the assets is higher than the future undiscounted net cash flows expected to be generated from the assets. The impairment amount to be recognized is measured by the amount by which the carrying value of the assets exceeds its fair value. The Company measures long-lived assets held-for-sale, at the lower of carrying amount or fair value, less costs to sell.

(i) Income taxes:

Income taxes are accounted for under the asset and liability method. The current charge for income taxes is calculated in accordance with the relevant tax regulations applicable to the Company. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to temporary differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases and operating loss carry-forwards. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date. The measurement of deferred tax assets is reduced, if necessary, by a valuation allowance for any tax benefits of which future realization is not more likely than not. Changes in valuation allowance from period to period are reflected in the statement of operations in the period of change. Tax benefits of deduction earned on exercise of stock options in excess of compensation charged to earnings are credited to additional paid in capital.

The Company recognizes the effect of income tax positions only if those positions are more likely than not of being sustained. Recognized income tax positions are measured at the largest amount that is greater than 50% likely of being realized. Changes in recognition or measurement are reflected in the period in which the change in judgment occurs.

The Company recognizes interest and penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits in income tax expense.

ASC 740 clarifies the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes recognized in an enterprise's financial statements and prescribes a recognition threshold and measurement attribute for the financial statements recognition and measurement of a tax position taken or expected to be taken in a tax return. The Company is required to recognize in the financial statements the impact of a tax position, if that position is more likely than not of being sustained on audit, based on the technical merits of the position.

(j) Compensated absences:

The Company's liability towards compensated absences is accounted for on the basis of unavailed encashable leave balances at applicable encashable rates.

(k) Foreign currency translation:

The Company's functional currency and reporting currency is the United States Dollar (USD/$). Foreign currency denominated assets and liabilities are translated into the functional currency at exchange rates in effect at the balance sheet date. The gains or losses resulting from such translations are included in earnings. Transaction gains or losses realized upon settlement of foreign currency transactions are included in determining net income for the period in which the transaction is settled. Revenue, expense and cash-flow items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rate in effect on the date of the transaction.

MINDTECK, INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(In United States Dollars, except where otherwise stated)

(l) Employee stock options:

Certain employees of the Company have been granted stock options under MIL's Mindteck Employee Stock Option Scheme, 2005, which gives such employees the right to purchase equity shares of MIL on exercise.

The Company accounts for its employee stock-based compensation awards measuring and recognizing compensation expense for all stocks-based payments awards based on the grant date fair value of those awards.

For awards with graded vesting that are linked to service condition, the Company recognizes compensation expense on a straight-line basis over the requisite service period of the entire award.

(m) Commitments and contingencies

Liabilities for loss contingencies arising from claims, assessments, litigations, fines and penalties and other sources are recorded when it is probable that a liability has been incurred and the amount of the assessment and/or remediation can be reasonably estimated.

7. Borrowings from bank:

On December 19, 2008, the Company entered into a revolving line of credit with Citizens Bank that permitted the Company to draw up to USD 2,000,000 through 2014, bearing interest at LIBOR plus 2%. Classified as

Deferred tax asset – Current	-	-
Deferred tax asset – Non-current	-	-
Deferred tax liability – Non-current	447,714	387,748

Management establishes a valuation allowance on deferred tax assets when it is more likely than not that the benefit of such deferred tax assets will not be realized. The ultimate realization of deferred tax assets is dependent upon management's assessment of the Company's ability to generate taxable income during the periods in which the temporary differences become deductible. Based on the historical level of taxable income and projections of future taxable income over the periods in which the deferred tax assets are deductible, management believes that it is more likely than not the Company will realize the benefits of these deductible differences net of the existing valuation allowances at March 31, 2014 and 2013. Management's assessment in the near term is subject to change if estimates of future taxable income are reduced.

The Company has recorded a valuation allowance of USD 1,494,421 and USD 1,950,733 as at March 31, 2014 and March 31, 2013 respectively representing a decrease in valuation allowance of USD 456,312 on deferred tax assets related to the net operating loss carry forward of the erstwhile Mindteck (USA) Inc. prior to its merger with the Company. Management believes that it is more likely than not that the Company will not be able to utilize the deferred tax asset.

As of March 31, 2014 and 2013, the Company has federal and state net operating loss carry forwards of USD 3,366,296 and USD 5,129,560 respectively available to offset future taxable income, which expire in various years beginning in 2017.

As of March 31, 2014 and 2013, the liability for unrecognized tax benefits was USD 1,166,097 and USD 1,114,097 including accrual for interest of USD 237,359 and USD 185,359, respectively. The Company recorded interest of USD 52,000 for the year ended March 31, 2014.

The Company files federal and various state tax returns. As a result of the net operating losses in prior years, the federal statute of limitations will remain open for a period following any utilization of the net operating loss carry forwards, and as such, these periods remain subject to examination. With few exceptions, the state filings are no longer subject to examination by the tax authorities for years before 2009. The Company is currently not under examination by the Internal Revenue Service or any other taxing authority.
